Together Center is now accepting rentals for its new Together Conference Center at 16305 N.E. 87th St. in downtown Redmond. The venue is for nonprofit organizations and was created as part of a wider $106 million redevelopment of Together Center's human services campus, which was completed in September.

The conference center is 2,400 square feet and can accommodate groups ranging from as few as 10 people up to 150 attendees for events and activities that include meetings, conferences, workshops, training, award ceremonies, fundraisers, and multicultural community celebrations.

The Together Center campus has two buildings. The conference center is located in the Mountain Building which also houses 80 low-income units managed by Horizon Housing.

In a press release, Together Center said the new venue addresses a need in the nonprofit sector “for a dedicated venue that is both affordable and adaptable to various event formats.” Nonprofits can rent the space at below market rates.
